Imperial Prince Sadanaru Landing Monument

During the Japanese occupation of Taiwan after the signing of the Treaty of Shimonoseki, forces led by Imperial Prince Fushiminomiya Sadanaru landed at Budai on Oct. 10, 1895, following some fierce fighting. To commemorate the prince's landing, the Japanese erected this monument in front of Jiaying Temple in 1923.

Greeting Visiting Gods in the Sea

According to legend, on the 27th day of the third lunar month each year 20 "guest king" gods come on a "king's boat" at high tide to visit the Xinwen area. To fulfill its obligations as host, Jiaying Temple invites deities from Taitianfu Temple in Nankunshen, Chaotian Temple in Beigang, Peitian Temple in Puzi, and other nearby temples to meet the visitors in the sea. Dozens of divine palanquins carrying deities plunge into the water to welcome the
